

BUSINESS IN THE COURTS.

APPRAISERS APPOINTED AND DECISIONS GRANTED YESTERDAY.

Four Decrees Granted by Judge Wheeler—B. H. Douglass & Sons May Continue Business—Foreclosure of Mortgage Granted—Other Business Transacted.

Late yesterday afternoon in the superior court Judge Ralph Wheeler appointed appraisers to fix a price on property opposite the Consolidated railroad depot in South Norwalk and which property the company desires to secure so as to use it for trucking purposes. The land in question is valuable and belongs to Dudley P. Ely and John Lewis. There has been some disagreement over the appointment of appraisers, but the affair was amicably settled yesterday by Judge Wheeler appointing Judge Charles W. Butler of New London, E. C. Bishop of Guilford and Talmadge Baker of Norwalk appraisers.

THE DIVORCES.

Mary E. McLaughlin of Naugatuck petitioned for a divorce from her husband, Charles L., on the ground of habitual intemperance and cruelty and her petition was granted on the ground of intemperance. The couple were married in Bridgeport, May 30, 1887.

Ella J. Priest of this city was granted a divorce from Jesse H. Priest on the ground of intemperance and cruelty. The case was partially heard last week and continued for further evidence.

A divorce was also granted to Lillian M. Lewis, also of this city, from Richard F. Lewis, a telephone lineman, on the ground of intemperance and cruelty. The couple were married in July, 1890.

The plaintiff was also allowed to resume her maiden name of Ford. Mary Ford of this city was also granted a decree from Everard Ford on the ground of desertion. The couple were married in 1882 in Hartford. She was also awarded the custody of her child, a girl about six years old, who was kidnapped by the husband, but the mother again recovered possession of her.

APPOINTED RECEIVER.

David A. Alden of the Merchants' National bank was appointed receiver for the Bellingham German Remedy company of Madison. The liabilities of the concern are placed at $5,000, with assets of about the same amount.

THE MESSRS. DOUGLASS TO CONTINUE BUSINESS.

F. C. Lum, receiver of the firm of B. H. Douglass & Sons, was granted an extension of two weeks to receive bids for the property. The Bradley & Smith company offered $30,000 for the property two weeks ago, but since then the Douglasses have made arrangements for a reorganization of the business, and by securing backers are enabled to bid $35,000 for the plant.

It is highly probable that the firm will succeed in making a settlement with its creditors, and continue in business either as a partnership or as a stock company. The latter is considered the more probable. The basis of the settlement is said to be 50 cents on a dollar. It is understood that some Boston capital is to be put into the business if the stock company is organized. S. C. Morehouse, counsel for the receiver, stated that he expected to settle up the affairs of the firm within two weeks.

CITY COURT—Criminal Side—Judge Callahan.

John Sullivan, begging, 30 days in jail, $7.00 costs; John Gallagher and Gerard D'Elia, policy playing, continued until March 2; Petros Seltaro, Rosario Seltaro, Wolf Alderman and Frank Arnone, violation of jury law, continued until March 5; David Tillman, violation of city ordinance, nolle; Edward F. Quigley, policy playing, continued until March 5; George A. Slichter, keeping disorderly house, continued until March 2; John Mulvey, reform school complaint, continued until March 15.

Court Notes.

A bond for $35 to prosecute was ordered in the suit of Collector Walter S. Swayne against the city of New Haven to recover $15,000 damages for alleged violation of contract.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE.

Judge Studley in the common pleas court late yesterday afternoon granted a motion for foreclosure of a mortgage in favor of Charles McDonald and against John Terrell and wife. The property is located on Carr street and the mortgage is for $1,000. Time for redemption was fixed at the first Monday in April.

AN ENTERTAINMENT.

By the Ladies' Seamen's Friend Society on March 15th—A Fine Treat.

An entertainment is to be given on March 15 for the benefit of the Ladies' Seamen's Friend society at Warner hall. It will be under the management of an entertainment bureau in New York city, which is warmly recommended by Rev. Dr. A. A. Phelps, a personal letter, and by Dr. Parkhurst, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Draper and other prominent New York people in circular letters.

This organization offers to its patrons a choice of artists, and the society has selected Marshall P. Wilder for this occasion. Since, though, he has so long been famous both in Europe and his own country, and though many know him through his little book "People I've Smiled With," he has rarely, if ever, visited our city in his character of entertainer. It is hoped many will welcome the opportunity to see this unique and popular artist.

Quarter of a Century.

On May 1 William E. Chandler will terminate his services as organist and chorister of the College street Congregational church, where he has been for the past seven years, and at the same time complete a quarter of a century of choir work in this city. Mr. Chandler was engaged by the music committee of the old Chapel street church as organist and choirmaster in 1870. His choir was the first in this city to inaugurate Sunday evening praise services, so popular at the present time. During these twenty-five years he has had but the two choirs, namely, that of the Church of the Redeemer and the College street choir. Mr. Chandler will continue choir work should an acceptable engagement be offered.

THE GRAND YSAIE CONCERT.

The Sale of Seats Progressing Finely. The sale of seats for the grand Ysaie concert to be given in the Hyperion theater on Wednesday evening next, March 6, is progressing finely and a large audience will greet the distinguished artist.

The Century Magazine for March, just issued to-day contains a biographical sketch of Ysaie from the brilliant pen of H. E. Krehbiel, the musical critic of the New York Tribune. This will be found particularly timely and interesting in view of the coming concert. A fine portrait of Ysaie accompanies the article.

The story of the opera is substantially as follows: Ysaie, to whom has been confided the care of the cup of the Holy Grail, has been tempted by Kundry in the magic gardens of Klingor, the evil magician, and wounded by the enchanter himself. His wound can only be healed by the touch of one who has successfully encountered the same temptation. Parsifal, a simple, guileless forest lad, whose character develops through the first act, resists Kundry in the second act, and after long wanderings arrives at the Grail Temple in the third act, heals Amfortas' wounds and becomes king of the Holy Grail. It is from the flowery meadow scene of the last act that Wilhelm's transcription is taken. Parsifal now made perfect through temptation and trials arrives on Good Friday morning at a beautiful meadow filled with flowers. There he is anointed by Gurnemanz and Kundry, a white robe of peace is exchanged for his coat of mail, and for the first time perfect peace enters his soul. The beautiful flowery meadow motive, as it is called, can be recognized by the base of alternating thirds and fourths in triplets, three-four time, while a tender and beautiful melody ascends for four bars as Parsifal sings "Wet drinkt mir die dreh die, heut' so schon!" The Good Friday motive and those of Parsifal and the Holy Grail are frequently heard throughout this part of the opera.

FAIR HAVEN.

On Wednesday evening Howard Waters gave a whist party at his home, 58 Pierpont street, in celebration of his birth anniversary. Three tables were filled with players. Those present were Mr. and Miss Coan of North Guilford, the Misses Palmer, Frank Ronald, William Preston, Frank Kanahan, Laura Barbrick, Robert Juviner, Jennie Howard, Ernest Potter, Ida Waters, Howard Waters and Hattie Converse.

The winners of the first prizes were Ernest Potter and Hattie Converse. Second prize, or booty, by Frank Kanahan and Jennie Howard. After the prizes were awarded Mr. and Miss Coan played piano duets, and Miss Palmer rendered a recitation. Light refreshments were served, and the occasion was very enjoyable. The callers went home in the "evening hours," and wished Mr. Waters many happy birthday anniversaries.

On Thursday evening a reception was tendered by Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Sage at their home, 46 Wolcott street, to converts who have become interested religiously during the recent revival in the Grand avenue Baptist church. The house was filled with callers, mostly young people, and the evening was pleasantly spent with music, games and the serving of refreshments.

Mrs. J. P. Morrow, who has been ill, is now much improved. Rev. Dr. Sage has been elected one of the directors of the Organized Charities. The barn on the Tom Gibley place in Foxon was burned Wednesday night, presumably the work of tramps. John Allen, who has a lease of the place, lost some hay and farming tools.

At the East Haven Congregational church last Sunday the second service in the evening was conducted by the W. C. T. U., and consisted of a free will offering service. The speaker of the evening was Miss A. L. Nettleton of the Lucy Hays union, who took for her subject, "Narcotics."

A surprise party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Allen at their residence on Quinlan street Wednesday evening, at which time many friends from this city and Montross called. There was dancing with prompting by N. Marks. During the evening musical selections were given and a fine spread was served.

George M. Baldwin of the annex attended the New Haven charter hearing in Hartford on Thursday.

Many citizens of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth wards do not like the provision in the proposed new city charter consolidating that territory into one ward. They prefer that the present ward boundaries be maintained.

Henry M. Gilbert, a brother of Mrs. B. H. Farren, died in Chicago a few days ago.

The reading club in the annex met this week with Miss H. E. Burwell. Rev. J. B. Hamilton of Massachusetts will preach in the East Pearl street M. E. church to-morrow.

James S. Young and Mrs. Elizabeth Gallagher were married by Rev. C. H. Donpe on Tuesday.

The grand list of East Haven foots up $689,992, from which $14,375 must be deducted for military exemptions, an increase over last year of $17,246.

Rev. Dr. Sage will preach at the Grand avenue Baptist church to-morrow morning from the topic, "Should I Belong to a Church?" and in the evening the subject will be "Why Some People Succeed."

MUSICAL.

The Fine Work of Mr. Charles S. LeForest.

The sale of seats for the Ysaie concert on March 6 has opened exceedingly well. New Haven would not have the opportunity to hear this great Belgian were it not for the public spirit of some of her citizens. Among the foremost of these is Mr. Charles S. DeForest.

Mr. DeForest is well known by our citizens as having the enviable reputation of being the most successful president of any of our musical societies which New Haven has ever had.

Notwithstanding the arduous duties which the successful Gounod concerts demand, Mr. DeForest always finds time to help on other musical events. At present he is giving a part of his valuable time to the work of drawing New Haveners to the great Ysaie concert on March 6. Anything that he attempts is sure to succeed. None should fail to show appreciation of his efforts.

PERSONAL JOTTINGS.

Slightly Ill—Sails for Europe—Railroad Police—Eighty-ninth Birthday—Ordnance—Miss Twitchell—Miss Cromwell—Novel Banquet, Etc.

Ex-Judge Lynde Harrison is confined to his home on Hillhouse avenue with a slight attack of the grip.

Judge David Callahan, after an absence of nearly three months, resumed his place upon the bench in the city court yesterday morning, looking very little the worse for his long typhoid fever siege. All were glad to see him once more. He is nearly well again, but has some flesh to gain before he is at his normal weight.

George Stanford of 187 George street will sail for Europe to-day on the steamer Etruria. He will visit his old home in Ireland, and expects to return May 1.

Charles Dorman, who was taken to the hospital from his home, 88 Gregory street, is getting along nicely. He was operated on for cancer on the neck.

Henry A. Barnes and A. H. Hayes of this city were appointed railroad policemen by Governor Coffin yesterday.

Governor Coffin and his staff attended the reception given by the First company, Governor's Horse Guard, in the Foot Guard hall, Hartford, last night.

Mrs. George C. Tolman of No. 89 Sherman avenue is able to be out again after an attack of malaria fever.

Mrs. Jeanette Barnes of 190 Meadow street celebrated her eighty-ninth birthday Thursday night. Her sons and daughters present were: Mrs. Louise Goodrich, William Barnes of the Pot Island house, Mrs. R. Cunningham, Henry Barnes of Fair Haven, Mrs. Henry Butterfield of Bridgeport, and Mrs. G. N. Frink of Stony Creek.

E. M. Seeley, manager of the notions and art department at Howe & Stetson's, entertained the lady clerks in his department at his home, 153 Blatchley avenue, Thursday evening. Whist and other games were played. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening. A flash-light picture was taken of the group by Mr. Seeley as a souvenir of the evening.

Miss Alice Twitchell has received an invitation from the president of the Y. P. S. C. E. union of Connecticut to write the words of the hymn to be sung at the convention to be held in Boston next July. Miss Twitchell is a ready, graceful writer, both in poetry and prose. She has already composed several hymns. She is now engaged in writing words to be set to Easter music, composed by a New Haven musician.

An ecclesiastical council ordained and installed Charles J. Ledin as pastor of the Swedish Emanuel Congregational church Thursday evening. Rev. H. L. Hutchins offered the opening prayer; Rev. Dr. McLane preached the sermon; Rev. E. G. H. Jerpe of Hartford offered the ordaining prayer in Swedish; Rev. Dr. Twitchell gave the right hand of fellowship; Rev. L. W. Bjorkman of New Britain gave the charge to the people in the Swedish language, and the new pastor dismissed the congregation with the benediction.

Miss Isabelle Cromwell will begin this afternoon a series of talks before the Current Event club of West Haven, similar to those recently delivered at the Young Men's Institute in this city. The first talk will take place at 3 o'clock today at the parish house of the Episcopal church in West Haven. These talks are not private, but open to all who care to attend.

A novel banquet was held at the home of Attorney W. P. Niles in the annex Thursday night. It was given under the management of a recently formed society, which is composed of twenty boys between the ages of fifteen and twenty. This was the society's first banquet and the members invited their mothers instead of their best girls. William A. Niles, the president, was toastmaster and every member was called upon for a speech, recitation or song.

A surprise party was given William Kapitzky of 50 Wolcott street Thursday night by his friends and neighbors. As Mrs. Kapitzky was in the secret, some preparations had been made and therefore the evening was doubly enjoyable. There was music, both vocal and instrumental, and then a delicious supper was served. Mr. Kapitzky received a number of tokens from the guests.

The new officers of the Monticello club are: President, James N. States; vice presidents, E. Shelton Cornell, Timothy F. Callahan; secretary and accountant, Thomas M. Prentice; assistant secretary, Septimus C. Fleetwood; treasurer, Frederic C. Barle; board of governors (for three years), A. Heston Robertson, J. J. Buchanan, Benjamin E. English, E. W. Scripture, Melbert B. Cary, Henry A. Bishop, Robert M. Stevens; (for two years, to fill the unexpired term), Roger S. Baldwin, G. W. Robinson, Jay W. Seaver.

Lawyer L. E. Pruyn, wife and sister, of Adams, N. Y., are spending a week with C. C. Shepard and family of Dickerman street. Mrs. Pruyn is a niece of Mrs. Shepard.
